NO. 54.

A CONSTITUTIONAL COWARD

Yielding to the Possession of a Mother's Tears. General Hooker Pardons a Deserter.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

I served on Gen. Hooker's staff for nearly a year and on one occasion was assigned to duty as Judge-Advocate of a general court martial, before which a private soldier of a Michigan regiment was brought, charged with desertion. The evidence showed that the prisoner had deserted three times, on the last occasion "in the face of the enemy." The court martial sentenced him to be shot, and the record of his trial and conviction was forwarded to Gen. Hooker for his approval. A short time subsequently Gen. Hooker came to my quarters, which adjoined his own, and said:

"Bond, in this case against Private _____, what do you think had better be done? Are there no extenuating circumstances?"

"None that I know of, General. He has deserted three times."

"Isn't there something in the case upon which you can base a recommendation of mercy?"

"Not a thing. The proof against him was positive and not denied, and the witnesses say further that when he was with his regiment he was a worthless fellow and a constitutional coward."

"That's just the thing," said the Gen. positively. "The man is constitutionally a coward, and I recommend him to your mercy, on that ground. I'll tell you what's the matter, Bond, his mother's at my quarters begging for her son's life and I want to spare him."

In accordance with this suggestion, the recommendation for leniency was written, and a few minutes thereafter a feeble old lady with silver gray hair and tearful face was bowed out of the General's door by the brave old hero, and turning away she exclaimed with uplifted hands, "God bless you, Gen. Hooker."

LEWIS H. BOND.

Tricks, Instincts, and Queer Habits of Some Animals.

A swarm of bees entered the dwelling of S. D. Bradley of Fort Wayne, Ind., and lighting on a dish of honey that was on the table where they were dining, took full possession of the sweets.

At the daily devotions of a Yarmouth (Me.) family, a favorite cat would always insist upon being present, until her kittens were drowned one day in her presence. From that hour the cat has refused to attend service.

A cow that had been bitten by a rabid dog at Glen Mills, Pa., attacked its owner and gored him severely. He caught the animal by the nose and roared for help, the cow meantime stamping upon him, when the other cows of the field rushed upon their companion and drove her away after a severe battle.

At a seminary not many miles from London, a huge mastiff exhibits wonderful powers. At 6 o'clock every week day morning he will ring the school bell to awaken the inmates by tugging at the rope that hangs within his reach, and on Sundays one hour later. He is soon admitted in the building, where his task is the distribution of twenty pairs of boots to their proper owners. A new pair at first perplexes him, but after putting around all the others he has no trouble in deciding to whom the new ones belong.

At the foot of the steep hill which leads to the Boulevard des Capucines, London, three horses stopped, recently, after they had dragged sixteen loads of coal to the spot. No amount of punishment could induce the animals to move another step, when the driver began kicking with hob-nailed shoes. The leader of the horses rebelled immediately, and turning about, seized the driver's arm with his teeth, tossed him to the ground, and trampled him with his hoofs, then picked him up again, threw him about, and would have killed him had not bystanders thought his punishment was sufficient and released him.

Diogenes Had no Tub.

The tub in which Diogenes is reported to have lived, is now said by German archaeologists to have been a tub stall. Tubs are of comparatively modern origin. The Greeks knew nothing about them. Their washing was done in earthenware vessels. Diogenes was one of the pigsties who jars sometimes in use. When lying down he laid it lengthwise, when desiring to stand, or sit in it, he placed it upright. The aborigines of Brazil buried their distinguished dead in earthen jars, and under giant trees on the banks of the Parana these peculiar coffins are found, containing mummies of priests and warriors, with their ornaments of arms.

In England, last July, one Harding and his wife, while drunk, resolved to drown themselves. She was rescued and changed with murdering her husband. Her counsel argued that she acted under coercion, but the Chief Justice ruled it established law that if two persons agreed to commit suicide, and one lost life, it was murder on the part of the survivor. The only question was whether they were not overpowered by drink. The jury took this view and recorded "Not guilty."

NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST.

School savings banks have existed in France since 1832, and now there are about 200,000 pupil depositors in the country.

The 65,000 dogs of St. Petersburg bring to the city treasury $189,000 per year, $2 being the tax on each dog.

At a meeting of Manchester Fenians a resolution was passed declaring that though a number of the brethren had acceded under ecclesiastical ban, there is enough life left in the society to carry out the redemption of Ireland.

A family of emigrants were found occupying a tomb in a cemetery near Providence, R. I., that had been left open. When discovered they had had possession a week, and were using the coffins as shelves to put their dishes on.

A committee of persons connected with Paris newspapers, appointed to organize fets in the aid of sufferers by the floods in Spain, proposed to have a bull fight in the Hippodrome, but the government thought that inhumanity should not be made to aid humanity.

Some Japanese commissioners, deputed to study the police and judicial systems of Europe, have already visited France, Belgium, and Holland, are now in Russia, and will next visit Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal, and England, returning home by America.

Cinchona Rubra.

There are now two kinds of drunks, continuous and periodical. Either kind may be termed in all respects, a disease. That is such a proved by the one fact-afflicted parties are frequently compelled to drink against their will or better judgment. Nothing will restrain them; neither the prayers of friends, the fearful entreaties of wives and children, nor the imminent ruin of their private affairs.

The principal predisposing cause of drunkenness is a sanguine temperament, a strong irascible nervous system. Daily observation shows that men excelling in body and mind are more disposed to drunkenness than those of feeble habits. Those weaklings affected with headaches after drinking rarely become drunks.

THE CURE—CINCHONA RUBRA.

Cinchona bark was introduced into Europe about the year 1638, but it was not until about 1737 that the plant producing it was known to naturalists. In that year, a French man, on a journey to Lima, Peru, had the opportunity of examining the tree, a description of which (upon his return to Paris) he published in the Memoirs of the French Academy. Some thirteen years later, the botanist, gave the name of "Cinchona Officinalis" in honor of the Countess of Cinchon, wife of the Viceroy of Peru, who had been healed miraculously (as the Jesuits of the day believed) by drinking from a pool of water into which the top of one of these trees, blown down by the wind, had fallen.

Cinchona stands at the head of all tonics. When taken into the stomach a pure-tincture of it usually excites in a short time a warmth which diffuses itself over the whole body. After some moments have elapsed the circulation experiences its influence, as exhibited in the somewhat increased frequency of the pulse; and, after a few doses are given at regular intervals, the whole system becomes more or less beneficially affected, and all the functions undergo a moderate degree of excitement. Its action upon the nervous system is often evinced by a sense of tension, or fullness, or slight pain in the head, slinging in the ears, etc.; overdoing brings partial temporary deafness. But, besides the mere excitation of the ordinary functions of health, it produces other effects upon the system which must be considered peculiar and independent of its mere tonic operation. That power by which, when administered in the intervals between the paroxysms of a disease it interrupts the progress of the malady, is something more than what is understood by the tonic property; for no other substance, however powerful or permanent may be the excitement which it produces, exercises a control over periodical affections at all comparable to Cinchona.

In all periodical diseases, such as occasional "sneezing" and ague, there are intervals of rest or freedom from the effects of the train of morbid actions going on in the recesses of the nervous system, and but one remedy is known which has the power during this interval of preventing a return of the condition experienced prior to its administration. That remedy is Cinchona Rubra. Exactly how it does this has not yet been satisfactorily explained; but that it does it has been acknowledged for over a hundred years. Indeed, all well-read and experienced medical men admit that Cinchona has this wonderful anti-periodic property. Prepared and sold by Dr. R. D. Wagner, Palmer House, Chicago, Illinois.

Guilty as Charged.

That Bright's disease, Diabetes, Pain in the back and loins, Smarting, Inflammation, Calculi, Brickbat deposits, or any trouble of the Kidneys or Bladder, is cured by the use of Dr. Merz's Nephrotoxin, the great Bunch Compound. It is the most wonderful prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale druggists, say: "We regard Nephrotoxin as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Childs, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors have given them up. For sale by Osburn & Co., 312 Broadway, New York City.

Dakota Territory is nearly 400 miles square, and has more acres of arable land than any state in the Union, except possibly Texas. It is more than three times as large as New York, and about four times the area of Ohio.

An immense tide of immigration is pouring into the Red river valley, and Fargo, Dakota, is booming. Over 150 buildings have been erected this season, and a 140-room hotel and 50 business houses are to go up next spring.

The San Jose Mercury says that the editor of the San Mateo County Journal is acknowledged to be the worst penman in the State. He recently headed an item, "Is there a balm in Gilead?" After much study the intelligent compositor put it, "Is there a balm in Gilead?"

A barn in Oakland, Josephine county, Oregon, was recently burned by spontaneous combustion of clover put in the barn in an uncurbed condition, and covered over with manure which prevented the gas formed by fermentation from escaping, until an explosion took place that was heard a mile and a quarter away.

While riding in Union county, Oregon, recently, E. A. McAllister, herdsman, came upon a wildcat. Unhappily, however, he caught the beast fairly around the neck. Instead of pulling back, however, the wildcat made for the horse and rider with powerful leaps. McAllister died for his life, with his end of the rope tied to the pommel of his saddle. He ran at breakneck speed for a mile, and then, looking back, saw that the animal was dragging dead behind.

Wear and Tear of Rolling Stock.

From the New York Sun.

The report of the Illinois Railroad Company contains the following data concerning the average life of the rolling stock and superstructures of twenty-six roads; stock cars, 10 years; freight cars, 11 1/2 years; iron rails, 7 years; steel rails, 14 years; oak ties, 7 years; pine ties, 4 1/2 years; cedar ties, 5 1/2 years; truss bridges, 25 years; trestle bridges, 8 years; pile bridges, 9 years. One road gives the life of its locomotives as 8 years, and of passenger cars 15; another road reports the former at 24 years, and the latter at 20. Only one road puts the life of passenger cars as high as 30 years, and the lowest reported life of such cars is 6 years. The shortest life of iron rails is 3 years, and the longest 12; four roads report it at 10 years. Only four roads report the age of steel rails, and they give it as 9, 12, 15 and 20 years respectively. These data differ considerably from those of roads in other parts of the country.

The above offer is genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible.

We will explain: Since we have established our business here, March 1st, 1897, we have paid particular attention to the buying of Bankrupt and Auction lots of Jewelry and Watches often buying at as low as one-tenth their value, and in one instance have paid over one-sixth the manufacturers' price. Since starting we have always been able to dispose of these goods in Chicago and through our regular customers throughout the country at nearly regular prices, as fast as we could prepare them for sale.

Under the circumstances, we have decided to make a special offer to our customers, and we have bought at lower prices than ever before. In order to make this offer, we have decided to make a special offer to our customers, and we have bought at lower prices than ever before.

CHAMPAGNE POWDER!

Messrs. James S. Taylor & Co., 118 Front Street, San Francisco, Cal. We are using our Champagne Baking Powder, and with our over 20 years experience, we guarantee no reasonable person could ask for a better powder. Use as directed and it never fails—only one teaspoonful to a quart of flour.

W. R. CLAMBERLAIN
Reno, Sept. 28, 1897.

OFFICE OF THOMAS PRICE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24, 1897.

Messrs. J. S. Taylor & Co., Cal. We have made a careful examination of bread and biscuits prepared under my own direction by the use of your Champagne Baking Powder, and find that they do not contain alum or any other injurious or deleterious ingredients. Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS PRICE, Assayer and Chemist.

INTERNATIONAL HOTEL

YACHTING, Nov. 18, 1897.

Messrs. James S. Taylor & Co., 118 Front St., San Francisco, Cal. I can make better results with one teaspoonful to a quart of flour with your Champagne Baking Powder than with three teaspoonfuls of any other I have ever used. If there is a yeast powder anywhere in the world equal to it, I will be glad to try it. As a baker I pronounce this powder simply perfection.

Mr. Ambrose Huser has been with us 24 years. He is a first-class baker, and I endorse the above.
